Standing Counsel. R. W. M. BIRD, Esq., Harrister-at Law. Secretary to the Provisional Committee,

James Gilfillan, Esq. TT is proposed to establish in Shanghai A Limited Banking Company, with the above title, in the belief that there is not only room, but actual necessity, for the additional facilities which such an institution will afford to the large local, coasting, and foreign trade which centres in this purt. The great extension of steam communication both by sea and river, and the creation of telegraphic connections, eince the existing Local Bank was founded, have greatly added to the importance of Shanghai, until it has become the great depot or distributing point for the trade of North-ern and Central China; but, while it seems desirable that Shanghai should be the head-quarters of the new Bank, and its direction on the apot where the principal interests are involved, a local Committee will be formed in Hongkong for the promotion of the undertaking there. The success of other public companies in Shanghai and Hongkong, and the evidence of a large sum of money seeking investment in China, encourage the belief that the proposed Capital for this Bank will be readily subscribed; many influential native merchants have already come forward as active promoters and supporters of the undertaking, and the Committee look for a very valuable constituency from Chinese

The legal constitution of the Bank is engaging the consideration of the Committee, and reference has been made to London and elsewhere for the best legal ndvice upon the subject; and it is understood that no Shares will be alloted, nor will operations be commenced until the necostary arrangements have been completed, when further information will be laid before intending Shareholders. In the meantime, applications for charge are invited, until the 15th April, 1872, but must be on the prescribed forms, which can be obtained from the Secretary.

HONGKONG, FEBRUARY 17TH, 1872. SIR RICHARD MACDONNELL has given trembling recognition to his last pet scheme, Shanghai Institution is a branch of an his last, that is, as regards its completion, for establishment in the native city, the new he informs us that he projected a Chinese Hongkong Hospital may prove to be Hospital movement almost as soon as he branch of a precisely similar Institution at arrived in this Colony. Sir RICHARD appa- Canton. rently had a good many schemes when he arrived, and he has found each one of them to fail almost as soon as carried out. Slowly it grow during his carlier years of administration, until in 1869, just soon enough and not too soon, there occurred that startling revelation of the Et-sze barbarity, which gave an impetus to the scheme, and pushed it forward to the point of laying the foundationstone in 1870. Just before his departure for England that year, Sir RICHARD was able to associate his name with that first outward been inwardly and spiritually developing. And now it is his fortune to have returned just in time to declare the institution open before he leaves the Colony for ever. If ever there was a good opportunity for extracting glory from one's work surely it is hero. The Chinese Hospital has been most distinctly associated with Sir RICHARD's name, and surely this is what he wanted. Why, then, Sassoon, J. J. dos Remedios, Baron do Cercal, should he be so obviously afraid of his own and Rustomjee. offspring? While he acknowledges it, why: does he throw as much responsibility for it on the Chinese community as he possibly can, consistently with the power of resuming such responsibility if it should turn out well? Clearly because he mistrusts it. Probably while the scheme was being worked out he Monday, the 19th instant. was gradually sensible of a growing suspicion of it, and now that it is done, fearful lest others should come to see its danger as well as he sees it, and yet hoping that possibly they may not, he recognises it conditionally, cern. So that anything good about the institution will be credited to Sir RICHARD as being part of the plan, and anything objectionable may passed to account of "details." But that not the point. The question is, why this somewhatvain-gloriousGovernor cannot make up his mind to take his child all the way to his bosom, but contents himself with holding it at a safe distance and looking triumphant-

The answer might be slow to suggest itself in a definite form, but then Sir Richard knew something of the Chinese, and had probably read more about them; and therefore the answer would gradually shape

This opinion has been strengthened by what has since taken place, in regard to the coolies from the Dolores Voarte, whom the Committee of the Chinese Hospital busied themselves about in a way somewhat striking, and also, in the case above mentioned, with reference to the coolies who had taken passages by the American mail steamer. There was sufficient in both these cases to cause some surprise at the peculiar line of action being adopted by this Hospital; and these facts, combined with others, are quite enough to from serious twelve men in each.
